Accredited short course for young agribusiness professionals

8-9 August, 29 August and 3 October 2016, Euroa Victoria

Hungry for ideas to take your farming business to the next level?

Keen to learn new skills, build your networks and be inspired?

Expressions of interest (EOI) are now open for an intensive short course for young people (18 to 35 year olds) working in agriculture in the Goulburn Broken catchment.

The 'Kickstart your future in agriculture' intensive short course will cover a range of topics including:

- ▶ The art and benefits of networking to build your career and business
- ▶ Marketing yourself and your business without the 'sell'

- ▶ Achieving a balance between business, family and life
- ▶ Understanding your personality and strengths and how to handle conflict and difficult situations
- ▶ Using strategic planning, goal setting and risk management to build your career and business
- ▶ Characteristics of successful rural businesses and visit to a successful farming business
- ▶ Making money work for your farming business.

Course participants will also develop their own action learning project to put the theory into practice, explore how they might take their agricultural business to the next level and set plans to achieve their goals.

COURSE PARTICIPANTS CAN EXPECT:

1. A ready-made network of like-minded young agribusiness professionals.
2. Access to experts, presenters and successful business operators.
3. Tips on how to make rural businesses work for you and your family dynamic.
4. The opportunity to explore ideas, develop plans and road test products and services with others.
5. Motivation, tools and other practical strategies to give you the confidence and courage to move forward.
6. The environment to clarify what is a priority to you, your business and your family.
7. An understanding of your strengths and how to use them to develop your unique business proposition.
8. A chance to turn your passion into a profitable business.
